TO THE WEST! TO THE WEST!
Before making your arrangements to follow the advice of the "thousands who have already gone," it would be well to consider what has been done to make the journey to your "Homes in the West" as pleasant and free from danger as human skill and foresight can accomplish.
By consolidation of the various lines, a road has been put into operation on the shortest possible line from Nashville, Tenn., to St.
Louis, "the future great City of the world."
This line, the
ST. LOUIS & SOUTHEASTERN RAIL-WAY,
has, during the past year, earned an enviable reputation by its smooth track, prompt time, sure connections, and the magnificence of its passenger equipment. Its trains are made up of new and commodious day cars, provided with the celebrated Miller coupler and platform, and the Westinghouse air-brake.
It is positively the only line running
Palatin Poles Drawing Room Sleeping Cars through without change from Nashville to St. Louis. No other line pretends to offer such advantages, either in distance, time or quality. Why, then, journey by circuitous routes? Do not be induced to purchase tickets to St. Louis or the West by any other line, remember that
"The St. Louis & Southeastern"
is the shortest, cheapest, quickest, best and only line under one management from Nashville to St. Louis, and is from 60 to 200 miles the shortest to St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, California, Texas, and all western points. It is also the "Chicago Shortest Line," via Evansville.
You can secure the cheapest rates for yourself and your movables on application, in person or by letter, to CHARLES McCAIN, Southern Passenger Agent, near College street Depot, Nashville, Tenn., or to the undersigned.

The Evening Post.

WILMINGTON, N. C.
Wednesday, October 15th, 1873.

Popular Education.

The educational facilities of the South call for the earnest and prompt attention of every one interested in the welfare of the people and the stability of our institutions. The facts are around us, and, unless overcome by blindness, every one can see the deplorable want of schools throughout the entire South. Our own State, with a free school system in theory, has not actually provided for the education of one-half of those who are entitled to it. The schools instituted by the general government have gone down for the want of the strength which started them.

The fact is that no Southern State is able to support a system of education. The losses incurred by the war places it out of the power, if it was the general wish, to give our youth the instruction they ought to have. The generous policy of the late George Peabody gave a magnificent sum of money for the establishment of schools in the South, but what is the interest accruing from this investment to the manifold wants of education among us? The interest arising from an hundred times the amount of Mr. Peabody's gift would not be more than adequate to the demands of the subject. We cannot expect many such acts of beneficence in our generation; certainly not enough to supply the existing wants.

Where, then, shall the funds be found to establish a system of education throughout the length and breadth of the United States, which will give thorough instruction to the future generations of the country; which will establish primary schools in every hamlet, and graded school in every district; which will build and endow colleges, and provide them faculties under whose instruction the young Democracy of this continent will stand the intellectual peers of the most vigorous Aristocracy of Europe? Whence comes the money to purchase the mechanical aids to scientific research, libraries, laboratories and observatories?

main of the United States such sums will accrue, that, if properly applied, will put into operation schools, seminaries and colleges in such numbers and of such characters, that every generation of Americans can have the gift of education. And to what nobler use can the proceeds of the sale of the public lands be applied?

The Evangelical Alliance.
The Sixth Conference of the Evangelical Alliance has adjourned. After a session of a week in New York it dissolved last Saturday.

The work accomplished by the Conference was chiefly discussing plans and theories for the evangelization of the world. Indeed, the body has no legislative functions, and all it can do is to recommend schemes which the different churches which were represented at the Conference can elaborate and adopt, or reject as they see proper.

The growing coolness, not to say skepticism of the age in religious matters demands the serious attention of such men as participated in the Conference. An entire day of its session was devoted to "Christianity and its antagonisms," and the field of doubt was carefully and thoroughly gone over. A field day was devoted to Popery, in which that venerable institution was powerfully and sometimes bitterly assailed.

The character of the gentlemen and their standing in their respective churches must command all they said to the careful consideration of all who regard morality as the basis of government.

The elections which took place yesterday do not vary much from those held last year. The most noticeable fact is, that in Iowa the Granges carried a few counties. Whether this be the first wave of a whelming tide, or whether the political strength of this organization has reached its maximum, it is difficult to say. If the past history of secret societies in politics will enable us to form a judgment, we should say that the Grange movement cannot occupy a controlling position. The life and death of secret political societies in the United States is full of meaning. As aids to organization they are powerful; but when they cease to hold subordinate places, and aspire to become the head of the party, their days of usefulness are numbered.

The State Fair.
The Thirtieth Annual Fair commenced its session Monday, under very favorable auspices. The day was delightful and the roads everything that could be desired. The procession started from the front of the Society Rooms at 11 o'clock and headed by the Salisbury band started for the grounds. On arriving at the grounds announced that Gov. Caldwell would open the Fair. He said:

PRESIDENT HOLT

Gentlemen:—The Thirtieth Annual Fair of the North Carolina Agricultural Society will now be formally opened by his Excellency, Gov. T. R. Caldwell.

In response the Governor spoke as follows:
Gentlemen:—I am at a loss to know whether the invitation to open the ceremonies of the Thirtieth Annual Fair of the North Carolina Agricultural Society was intended by my friends as a kindness or unkindness. If the former, it falls far short of the mark. In fact, I take it as very unkind, from the fact that no time was given me to prepare a speech acceptable to these present. I will not attempt a speech, for it is unnecessary, as the work done by the President and Executive Committee of the Society speaks for me. One has only to look over these beautiful grounds and survey the elegant and spacious buildings and a more eloquent speech is uttered than can be delivered by any one in the State. Three short months ago this attractive ground was nothing but an old broom sedge field, filled with gullies and covered with runners. To-day it is as pretty an exhibition ground as any in the South, and give us twelve months more and we will challenge a comparison with any South or North of Mason's and Dixon's line. This, gentlemen, shows what brain and muscle, backed by energy and perseverance, will do when properly applied. There was one thing which he would say, and which he felt it his duty to say: he hoped politics might never enter this enclosure. All should meet here as friends and neighbors. Let no political bitterness and hate rankle in our bosoms. Let us forget the dissensions of the past and join hands in amity in the future. It was time that these bitter antagonisms should cease. He appealed to all to forget the unpleasant recollections of the past and live in harmony and friendship henceforth. Men entertaining political differences in the olden time could be personal friends. Why, could it not be so now?

Why, could it not be so now? He was a member of that party he had a right to say it, take upon yourselves no fantastic airs in coming in here because you are a Republican. You are no better than anybody else! To his Democratic friends he would say: be not ashamed; you are in good company. He would be rejoiced to see this spirit of fraternity and kindness prevail the entire State. Dissensions and animosities buried, and all good and true men working together for the common good of our State.

In conclusion, the Governor again complimented the Society on the successful issue of its efforts, and hoped it would soon reach that height of prosperity, beyond which there could be no improvement.

The Governor, during his remarks, was frequently and loudly applauded.

THE GROUNDS
are about one and a quarter miles from the city and are large and commodious. The buildings are large and numerous, and the entries give promise of a very big time.

The Grand Stand is three stories high, and it is claimed to be seat 6,000 people. The Judges Stand is likewise three stories high. The race track is but half a mile around. The Exhibition hall measures 250x40 feet from wing to wing, entrance portico being octagonal. There are many other buildings of importance, but this will suffice for to-day. We are a great believer of Fairs and improvements and wish it full success. We are indebted for our report to the Raleigh News, without which paper we would be unable to keep house.

There was a rumor in circulation in Madrid last Saturday, of the discovery of a plot to assassinate Senor Castelar, the President of the Spanish Republic. It is not at all unlikely that the influence of the priests may secure such an attempt; their promises are liberal, and martyrdom and canonization are powerful inducements to superstition.

As a fashionable young lady, fresh from boarding school, came to her honest old father's breakfast-table, instead of speaking English, and saying, "Good morning," she spoke French, and said, "Bon jour." "Of course the bone's yours, if you say so," responded the practical old gentleman, as he handed her the ossified portion of a breakfast.

EDITORIAL BUDGET.

—The Ministers of Commerce and the Interior have issued instructions to the district authorities to expel all emigration agents who are domiciled in Germany.

—Henry James has been returned to the English Parliament from Taininot by a majority of 87 votes. Edwin James, in a speech to the electors of Marylebone, advocated woman suffrage, and at the close of the meeting secured from his hearers a vote of thanks. John Bright will address his constituents at Rochdale on the 22d inst.

—The Republican Deputies to the Assembly waited on ex-President Thiers on Monday and tendered their congratulations on the victory in the provinces. Thiers expressed his gratification at the result of the elections, because it would strengthen the hands of the opponents of monarchical schemes. The Deputies have also sent a telegram to Remusat, expressing their joy at his success.

—Judge Cadwalder, in the United States District Court, on the 13th, decided a question of considerable importance to ship-owners and marines. In the case of Wilson against the steamship Juniata—a suit for seamen's wages—the ship had taken on board one seaman too many, and Wilson, who was regularly shipped by the shipping master, was discharged. The latter thereupon filed his libel for one month's pay. The Court held that the captain had no right to discharge Wilson, and decreed libellant one month's wages with costs.

—Much embarrassment has been created at the Navy Department by the receipt, during the past month or so, of frequent applications from officers, especially those newly married, backed by strong influence, and certificates from competent medical men, for the revocation of their sea orders, based on the ground of "special family matters," and the chief of the office of detail has felt himself compelled to render a decision to the effect that the office cannot recognize any competent naval or other medical authority as being valid to the fact that the presence of two officers is necessary on such occasions; and, moreover, that if sea orders were to be revoked on such grounds the frequency of the occurrence would render it impossible for the Department to supply the full complement of officers for vessels going into commission.

THE GREAT EASTERN CIRCUS paraded this morning with its two bands and "steam piano" making a creditable exhibition. The performance at the tent was slimly attended, as so many were deceived day before yesterday. The show was very fine, however, and well worth the price of admission. There are several lady riders, among them Miss Lake who was very fine. The double trapeze acts are good, and the trick horses are fine. We expect a big crowd will be in attendance this afternoon and night. The performing animals attract much attention and the show is worthy of patronage.

THE TOWN CRIER.

— Mild. — Gold is 108 1/2. — Circus day again! — Many strangers in the city. — Oysters are more plentiful. — Read the changes in the mail. — Don't forget the Concert next week. — See Dr. DeRossett's new advertisement.

— That four-legged girl at the side show is a great wonder. — The flying trapeze wooden pony arrangement is still in full blast.

— Mrs. Lumsden is furnishing the sweetest hats. They are "perfectly lovely."

— The barometer was higher yesterday than it has been known before for a long time.

— Who is going to the State Fair? To-night is the proper time to start and get there Thursday morning.

— Harry Webb is fitting up his Saloon, on the corner of Princess and Front streets, in a splendid manner.

— We wish the County Commissioners would have the artificial stone put down in the Court House hall. The present floor is very disagreeable.

— We would like to see a fight between the fierce lion of the Great Eastern Menagerie, and the dog on the lot adjoining the Post. We will bet on the dog as much as ten cents.

— Dr. Plumer preached a remarkably fine and appropriate sermon last Sabbath, enjoining his hearers to "mind their own business." Nothing could have been more beneficial in this gossiping little city.

— The street show of the Great Eastern Circus to-day was quite imposing. A large crowd was on the sidewalk. — One imaginative gentleman said that when he saw the dromedaries he felt as though he was in Damascus.

The collection in the Presbyterian Church in Raleigh on Sunday in behalf of the Memphis yellow fever sufferers, amounted to $100.

The Odd Fellows, Masons and Churches of Raleigh are engaged in raising funds for Memphis and Shreveport. We hope that a handsome sum will be realized.

The woman familiarly known as Crazy Jane, who has been confined in the Newbern jail for safety and care, died last Sunday night. Verdict of death from natural causes.

Hon. A. M. Waddell, of Wilmington, will repeat his lecture on the early history of North Carolina, in the College Chapel of Wake Forest College, on Wednesday night, Oct. 15th.

From the Newbern Times we learn that the aeronaut of Haight's circus met with a serious accident at Kinston on Monday, which may prove fatal. It seems that the balloon, in descending, and when about one hundred feet from the ground, burst, and came down with a crash, crushing the man badly. He was removed on a litter, and medical assistance rendered.

The Norfolk Journal says: The Fairfield Canal, in Hyde County, N. C., now under construction by the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Company, is fast approaching completion under the supervision of Mr. John W. Parks, constructing engineer. The canal extends from Alligator river to Lake Mattamuskeet, a distance of four and a half miles, and is now so far completed as to be navigable for vessels within two-thirds of a mile of the lake.

What is an estate worth if it brings no enjoyment. — WEAVING EXTRAORDINARY.—A Yankee advertiser, who rejoices in the various occupations of doctor, lawyer, justice of the peace and dry goods merchant, adds the following to his list of pursuits and qualities: "N. B.—Auctioneering of the loudest kind, intervention with ventriloquism."

A gentleman, whose morning dram had been a little too much for him, in saddling his horse got the wrong end foremost. Just as he was about to mount, a German friend came up and called his attention to the mistake. The horseman gazed for a moment at the intruder as if in deep thought, and then said: "You let that saddle alone. How do you know which way I am going?" And the gentleman from Germany passed on.

"DOUBLE" AND QUIT.—Alexandre Dumas used to tell the following anecdote? Being one evening at the San Carlo, Naples, he entered into conversation with a stranger sitting in the stall next to him. "I hope," said the latter at the close of the performance, "that we may have the pleasure of meeting again. I am Alexandre Dumas." "Oh! indeed!" replied the celebrated novelist, with his gay laugh; "so am I!" The stranger "collapsed."

— A Memphis dispatch of the 13th says: The slight frost this morning has inspired new hope. Very few cases of fever are reported up to noon. An important feature now noticeable in the disease is that it soon turns its course to recovery or death. Many of the cases attacked a week ago are on the street, while those attacked earlier are still confined to their rooms. The mortuary report from noon yesterday to noon to-day shows a list of forty-two, of which thirty-six died from yellow fever and six from other causes. The trains leaving the city continue crowded. George D. Plummer, a prominent Mason, and W. T. McLefresh, a prominent commission merchant, are among the dead reported at noon. Two of the largest beer halls in the city closed this morning from lack of business.

— A gentleman who has lived in Chihuahua, Mexico, many years, recently passed through St. Louis on business, and communicated to a Times reporter a scheme for the conquest of northern Mexico, embracing Chihuahua, Coahuila, New Leon and Sonora, and subsequent annexation to us. A number of capitalists in this country, and many prominent and wealthy men of Mexico, are said to be connected with the scheme. A brief outline of the project is as follows: The Texas Pacific Railroad is being constructed at both termini, and work will be finished about the middle of the route, somewhere near El Paso. Some fifteen thousand laborers will be engaged upon the road, and when the work is completed they will be discharged in the country when it will be impossible for them to obtain employment and as such men are generally improvident and without money they will be glad to accept anything that may offer. How these men are to be utilized is thus stated: A society has been organized, with headquarters at New Orleans, composed exclusively of officers of the Union and Confederate armies, no one being eligible who has not attained the rank of captain. Some weeks before the completion of the road these gentlemen will be sent forward to make themselves personally acquainted with the laborers, and upon the discharge of the latter they will attempt to organize them into an army. The commissariat and camp equipage will be furnished by capitalists who back them, and they will then march over the northern States of Mexico and raise the flag of independence in each of them. The people of these States would look with favor on the enterprise, it is expected, and offer no molestation or interference, and Government of Mexico would be powerless to prevent it. The next step would be annexation to the United States by a vote of the people, as was the case with Texas. Tom Scott and Gen. Grant were mentioned as connected with and favorable to the scheme.

CABLE DISPATCHES.

GERMANY.

BERLIN, October 15. The correspondence between the Pope and Emperor William is officially published.

The Pope writes August 7th, that the measures of His Majesty's government aim at the destruction of Catholicism. He is unable to discover any reason for such severity, being informed and believing that the Emperor is averse to an increase or continuance of this harsh policy, and he points out that measures injurious to the Christian religion only tend to undermine the throne. He speaks frankly, as truthfulness to all is his duty, and all baptized, even non-Catholics, belong in a certain sense to him. He cherishes the conviction that the Emperor will adopt the necessary measures, and concludes by praying God to be merciful to the Emperor and himself.

The German Emperor replies Sept. 3: Rejoicing at the opportunity to correct errors relating to German affairs, and if the Pope was truthfully informed, he would be aware that a government cannot act against the approval of its sovereign. The Emperor deeply regrets that a portion of his Catholic subjects—priests—have organized a party which is engaged in intrigue against the State, disturbing the religious peace to the extent of open revolt against existing laws. He points to indications of similar movements in other parts of Europe and in America, and declares that he will maintain order and law so long as God enables him to do so, even against the servants of a church which he supposed acknowledged obedience to the secular authority as a commandment of God. His doctrine of obedience, however, he regrets to see many priests in Prussia disown. He expresses the hope that now the Pope has been informed of the truth, he will use his authority to terminate the agitation, which he declares before God has no connection with religion or truth. He takes objection to the Pope's remark about non-Catholics, and, concluding, says that a difference of belief should not, however, prevent our living in peace.

In reference to this and several other points, he offered affidavits in support of his statements. The President said they would be referred with other affidavits to the Court when the time for examination of witnesses had arrived. The feeling is that to-day's proceedings are unfavorable to Bazaine.
